General and Surplus Funds

Investment Policy

General

To carry out its mission of representing the actuarial profession internationally, and promoting professionalism, education and research, the IAA collects dues from its member associations. The dues are required to meet current and future obligations. To the extent dues exceed current obligations, the excess cumulative assets are held and invested in accordance with this investment policy document.

The objective of this investment policy is to preserve capital while obtaining a reasonable rate of return with moderate risk. Both fixed income and equity investments are considered appropriate, within the limits set out herein. This policy is intended to apply to the IAA, as a whole entity, comprising the Secretariat, core operations, Sections and Committees.

In accordance with IAA Statutes and Internal Regulations, responsibility for reviewing the investment policy, oversight of its implementation and making proposals to the Council lies with the Audit & Finance Committee. The Audit & Finance Committee reports to Council annually, as specified below.

Accumulated assets will be held to meet short term obligations (Operating Funds – annual revenue received during, and to be drawn down, throughout the current fiscal year and managed by the Director of Operations and Finance) and the remainder, if any, are long term funds (Surplus Funds – which form part of the members’ equity). IAA considers it essential to maintain Surplus Funds to mitigate risks such as falling revenue due to member association withdrawal, and rising expenses such as colloquium expenses or litigation.

Investment Guidelines

Investment Decisions

Responsibility for execution of this investment policy in accordance with these guidelines and restrictions lies with the Executive Director and Secretariat staff, in consultation with the investment advisors/custodians, with oversight from the Audit and Finance Committee. Day to day decisions such as buying or selling individual securities below $200,000 must be authorized by the Director of Operations and Finance and the Executive Director. Investment transactions of $200,000 or more must receive signed approval by any 2 of the following: IAA President, President Elect, Immediate Past President and Executive Director.
General Investment Objectives

The Operating Funds will be held in cash or invested in guaranteed fixed income investments of less than 1 year in duration. To facilitate the collection of contributions and minimize exchange costs for expenses in other currencies, the Secretariat will maintain an appropriate balance of the Operating Funds in U.S. dollar and Euro accounts, in addition to the domestic Canadian dollar accounts. The operating funds will be listed under "current assets" on the balance sheet.

The Surplus Funds will be invested in a combination of Canadian dollar short term investments, fixed income investments and equities, to minimize exchange costs and be consistent with the longer-term nature of the obligations. The target will be to hold $250,000 of the Surplus Funds in short term investments, more or less $50,000. If the balance in the account moves outside of this range the asset manager will rebalance the funds as instructed by any two of the following: IAA President, President Elect, Immediate Past President and Executive Director. These funds will be identified as the long-term “investments” on the balance sheet of the IAA financial statements.
