-Tim Werkhoven (tim.werkhoven@actuaries.org.uk) - 8:18 AM

Q: What are pros and cons you are considering for choosing between electronic vote vs vote in Chicago?

-ibrahim Muhanna (ibrahim@muhanna.com) - 8:20 AM

Q: What about jurisdictions where there is no FMA but there are universities teaching actuarial science and graduating what is so called actuaries. What are the steps to mitigate this?

-Rainer Fürhaupter (rfreniar@aol.com) - 8:21 AM

Q: Hi, here is Rainer from DAV. We strongly support an electronic vote as soon as possible. We lost a lot of time. We need this new Core Syllabus to bring our profession forward!

-Andrew Gladwin (agladwin@oldmutual.com) - 8:23 AM

Q: The Actuarial Society of South Africa fully supports the electronic vote- will allow the Education Committee to focus fully on achieving the vision that Bozena set out

-Tonya Manning (tonya.manning@conduent.com) - 8:24 AM

Q: I would like to confirm that the SOA agrees that the syllabus should be adopted now. Thank you.

-Tim Werkhoven (tim.werkhoven@actuaries.org.uk) - 8:24 AM

Q: IFoA: agree syllabus soon / electronic vote

-Tonya Manning (tonya.manning@conduent.com) - 8:26 AM

Q: I would also like to thank IAA leadership for your handling of this matter to move the vote forward.

-Carla Angela (carla.angela38@gmail.com) - 8:27 AM

Q: I fully support the electronic vote

Gelu Ruptureanu to host (privately): I also agree to have an electronic vote of the motion

Yas Fujii to host (privately): Are we allowed to comment editorial changes?

-Karen Williams (kmwilliams@soa.org) - 7:15 PM

Q: What are the considerations for doing an electronic vote now vs an in person vote in Chicago?

-Dave Pelletier (dave@davep.ca) - 7:19 PM

Q: Guideline 14 now says that associations are to show their educational requirements meet the syllabus in a way defined in the internal regulations. Is there any change in a practical sense in what this means?

-Ralph Blanchard (rblancha@travelers.com) - 7:21 PM

Q: The guidelines require associations to have an "equivalent" education syllabus. What does that mean in this context?
